

Welcome!

Welcome to Muddy Paws Photography. Thank you for inquiring about a session. This information packet will tell you all about Muddy Paws. For more information please visit my website at www.muddypawsphotos.com.

The goal of Muddy Paws is not only to give you beautiful images of your dog but also to help you display the images in best way possible. My dog images are gorgeous classic images taken in studio and are then digitally enhanced to have a luxurious painted look. They are truly pieces of art.

I specialize in custom wall art so that your artwork can be displayed big and beautiful on your walls. I offer framed archival prints for a classic look and gallery wrapped canvases for a more modern look. We can figure out the best look for your walls during your ordering session. And, of course, I offer desk prints and digital files as well.

The Session

Your Muddy Paws session will consist of three parts. First comes the consult. During the consult, I will come to your house and meet your sweet doggies. It helps the dogs to relax during the session if they have already been introduced to me. I will also photograph any walls on which you would like to display your new artwork.

The second step is the actual portrait session. We will hold the session in my studio or another studio if you live a distance from Evergreen/Conifer. Plan on this step taking about an hour as we like to give your doggies plenty of time to get comfortable in the studio. I have multiple backdrops for a variety of different looks in your images. You will find that my calm nature works very well with dogs.

And the third step is the ordering appointment. Here we will meet (usually in my studio) for a relaxed viewing and ordering session. We will use special software that will display your favorite images on your wall pictures at different sizes and with various frames.

But my dog won't stay still!

Actually most dogs don't spend a lot of time being still. That is completely fine and I am quite good at working with active dogs. All I need is a split second to get the shot. If your dog needs a leash to stay still, it's not a problem at all. I can easily photoshop out leashes. Trust me that we can get some great shots of your dog no matter how active.

Investment

I offer framed prints, gallery wrapped canvases, acrylic prints, album blocks, archival desk prints and full resolution digital files. Most clients invest at least $350 on their images.
